Our residential programmes, held at Windsor Castle, create a safe and confidential space for senior leaders from all sectors to reflect, debate and transform how they lead.

Emerging Strategic Leaders

For senior operational leaders who already have significant leadership experience and are taking on more strategic responsibility. Participants will focus on developing their own leadership style as well as gaining insights into handling difficult leadership challenges.

Developing Leaders

For those in senior leadership positions looking to develop their strategic thinking. Participants will focus on the wider demands of what strategic leadership means and how to facilitate and implement change in a complex environment.

Experienced Leaders

Enables senior executives to become more effective by exploring the responsibilities and challenges of strategic leadership. Participants will focus on the challenges that come with ultimate responsibility, managing resilience and isolation, and handling complex relationships.

Women in Leadership

Explores the specific challenges faced by senior women as they progress through their careers. Focuses on ways to increase self-confidence and resilience and explore the barriers and enablers that women face when seeking more senior leadership roles. Participants can also opt to attend a one-day masterclass*, six months on from the programme, to advance learnings with the wider alumnae network.

Guide to choosing a programme

This guide illustrates the level of seniority and cross-sector diversity that participants will benefit from when attending a Windsor Leadership Programme. For further clarification on which programme might be most suitable, please call us on 01753 830202.
